

What Caboolture State High School students have to say about Justice Studies

“Even if you don’t want to study law, the law is everywhere and is involved in all occupations so it prepares you for whatever you want to do after school.”

“I really enjoyed the class discussions. It helped me understand issues from many different perspectives.”

“Legal studies gives you both the basics of the legal system and some in-depth looks at specific areas of law that are of use to everybody in their life.”
